A Global Festival of Construction

Sydney Build 2025 was officially opened by the Hon. Anoulack Chanthivong MP, setting the tone for two days focused on innovation, collaboration and the future of the built environment. With nearly half of exhibitors representing international markets, Sydney Build is not only Australia's largest construction event, but also a truly global meeting point for the industry.

The extensive programme spans every major sector of construction and design, from sustainability and digital transformation to architecture, skills development and workforce wellbeing, ensuring broad relevance for professionals across the entire value chain.
